

The University

By Atish Rayal

English literature invites criticism

Literature, as required

the English literature department has decided to bring about changes in the syllabus. Dr. Shabbar Ali, the head of the department, says that the last of some 10 years ago, there was a group of people who had been teaching English literature in a college administration. They were asked to submit their syllabus to the department. But an official of the department said that the syllabus was not acceptable. He said that the syllabus did not reflect the needs of students. The department then decided to bring about changes in the syllabus. This was done by a group of people who had been teaching English literature in a college administration. They were asked to submit their syllabus to the department. But an official of the department said that the syllabus was not acceptable. He said that the syllabus did not reflect the needs of students.

The department then decided to bring about changes in the syllabus. This was done by a group of people who had been teaching English literature in a college administration. They were asked to submit their syllabus to the department. But an official of the department said that the syllabus was not acceptable. He said that the syllabus did not reflect the needs of students.

The department then decided to bring about changes in the syllabus. This was done by a group of people who had been teaching English literature in a college administration. They were asked to submit their syllabus to the department. But an official of the department said that the syllabus was not acceptable. He said that the syllabus did not reflect the needs of students.

The department then decided to bring about changes in the syllabus. This was done by a group of people who had been teaching English literature in a college administration. They were asked to submit their syllabus to the department. But an official of the department said that the syllabus was not acceptable. He said that the syllabus did not reflect the needs of students.

The department then decided to bring about changes in the syllabus. This was done by a group of people who had been teaching English literature in a college administration. They were asked to submit their syllabus to the department. But an official of the department said that the syllabus was not acceptable. He said that the syllabus did not reflect the needs of students.

The department then decided to bring about changes in the syllabus. This was done by a group of people who had been teaching English literature in a college administration. They were asked to submit their syllabus to the department. But an official of the department said that the syllabus was not acceptable. He said that the syllabus did not reflect the needs of students.

The department then decided to bring about changes in the syllabus. This was done by a group of people who had been teaching English literature in a college administration. They were asked to submit their syllabus to the department. But an official of the department said that the syllabus was not acceptable. He said that the syllabus did not reflect the needs of students.